1907: Granite Railway Co.

A photograph from 1907 of granite loaded on a train of the Granite Railway Company, owned by John Swenson, as it leaves Concord. This particular load was part of a 4,000-cubic-foot order of Concord granite that was to be used to construct a pyramid tomb. If you look closely you will notice the flatcar is lettered “Boston & Maine Railroad” and there is a B&M Railroad employee standing on the car as it departs. My family, like many of your ancestors, starting working in the Concord granite quarries around 1850 after arriving from Ireland. It was honest work, supporting my great-great-grandfather, his son and grandson.

The city manager’s office sent out the City Manager’s Newsletter last Friday. The full newsletter can be found by going to concordnh.gov and clicking the “Newsletter” button. Here are some highlights:

City playgrounds open

With the governor lifting the stay at home order, the city’s playgrounds reopened on Tuesday, June 16. On Monday, June 15, Parks and Recreation Department staff inspected and thoroughly cleaned all the playgrounds. Playground guests are asked to continue to practice social distancing while using the equipment and to please keep children home if they are sick or not feeling well. There are playgrounds in the following parks: Reed, Rollins, Fletcher-Murphy, West Street, Thompson, White, Kimball, Garrison, Rolfe, Merrill and Keach. For more information on the Parks and Recreation Department, please visit their web site at concord-
Summer Camp begins Monday, June 22; visit concordparksandrec.com for more information. Registration deadline was June 16.

Adult tennis leagues meet at Memorial Field on either Tuesdays or Thursdays. Instruction provided by Pattu Pillai.

School Street garage

Exterior Masonry Repairs: Over the coming weeks, the contractor will be tackling brick masonry repairs on the exterior walls of the garage (east side of the garage). This work will take several weeks to complete.

Security Cameras: As part of the project, security cameras were installed throughout the garage. The majority of cameras are now operational.

Lighting: With the project now nearing completion, the City is using available funds for additional lighting improvements inside the garage. Specifically, additional lighting will be added on first floor near Warren Street to brighten up some dark corners. Also, additional lighting will be added on each side of the elevator tower on Levels 1, 2, 3, and 4 to eliminate dark spots in those locations. This work will be completed shortly.

South Stair Tower: Installation of the glass curtain wall for the south stair tower is scheduled to begin on June 22. The work is scheduled to be completed on or about August 17. The tower will open to the public shortly thereafter.

Pedestrian Plaza: Starting Monday, June 15, we will begin pouring concrete in the pedestrian plaza area near the south stair tower (a.k.a. “Warren Street Stair Tower). The process will take approximately 3-5 days, weather permitting.

Schedule: The project is tentatively scheduled to be completed around Labor Day.

Reopening reminder

Several city facilities are now open by appointment only. Please note that guests will be required to wear a mask (their own or one will be provided) and answer basic screening questions before entering the buildings. Steps taken to protect the public include mask usage by City employees, the installation of sneeze guards, hand sanitizer stations, and increased sanitization in City facilities.

Residents are still encouraged to utilize online services whenever possible. A table with a drop box, applications, and other information will continue to be setup inside the Code Administration lobby at 37 Green Street. There is also a mail slot in the front door of City Hall. More information is available in the videos that Concord TV helped us put together (see videos below).

The City of Concord thanks the public in advance for their cooperation in this process as we all navigate these unprecedented times. For more information, visit this web page concordnh.gov/coronavirus.

Library curbside program

Patrons can place items on hold with your library card and pick up when they are ready. You can place the hold online or call 225-8670. Have your card ready. Try to limit to five items per card. You will receive a call when your items are ready and can schedule a time to pick them up.

When you arrive for your pick-up time, your items will be checked out and waiting for you on the pick-up table.

Pick-up times will be Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Thursdays, 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. and Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Hydrant flushing

Hydrant flushing will continue for several weeks in different areas of the city. Concord water customers should view the tentative flushing schedules below to determine when flushing is scheduled to occur in their area. Customers should remember to avoid doing laundry during their flushing time and to run their tap on cold to flush the lines if discoloration occurs.

Schedules are subject to change. Please visit concordnh.gov/springoperations to find updated information and verify scheduled flushing times as the season progresses.

Property tax relief program reminder

The Department of Revenue Administration’s New Hampshire Property Tax Relief Program deadline is June 30. Property owners who owned and resided in their homes on April 1, 2019 may apply to the State of New Hampshire for relief of a portion of the state education property tax. There is no age requirement or asset limit for this program. A single person whose total household income was $20,000 or less in 2019 and married persons or head of New Hampshire households with total household income of $40,000 or less in 2019 may apply.

Completed forms and documentation must be post marked no earlier than May 1, 2020 and no later than June 30, 2020 to the NH DRA, Taxpayer Services Division, PO Box 299, Concord, NH 03302-0299. Applicants will need a copy of their final 2019 tax bill, that was sent in November, and a copy of their 2019 federal tax return. If the property is in a trust, a copy of the entire trust document must be submitted. Questions about the program may be directed to the Revenue Administration at 603-230-5920; press prompt 2. Hearing or speech impaired individuals may call TDD Access: Relay NH, 1-800-735-2964.

Applications for the State of New Hampshire’s Low and Moderate Income Homeowner’s Property Tax Relief program are available on the Department’s website at revenue.nh.gov/forms/2020/documents/dp-8-2019-print.pdf. The forms may be obtained on the City of Concord’s website at concordnh.gov; on the Assessing Department page the link is on the left side of the screen under the Low & Moderate tax Relief. The forms may also be requested by calling 228-8550 or emailing assessing@concordnh.gov between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Monday thru Friday and leaving a message with your name, number, and address.
Insider staff

With the expiration of the governor’s order, the city of Concord reopened its playgrounds Tuesday. So you and the kiddos can hold on out from some fun in the sun.

Some things to consider, however, are these recommendations from the CDC:

■ Visit parks that are close to your home
■ Don’t visit parks if you or someone in your home is sick, has tested positive for COVID-19, or was recently exposed to COVID-19
■ Try to stay more than 6 feet away from people outside of your household
■ Don’t visit crowded parks
■ Wear cloth face coverings if you are older than 2 and don’t have breathing problems
■ Wash hands with soap and water often, especially after going to the bathroom, before eating, and after coughing, blowing your nose or sneezing. Hand sanitizer with at least 60% alcohol can be used if no soap and water is available.

Though not on the CDC list, it’s probably a good idea to remind the kids not to put their mouths on playground equipment, too.

Now that you’ve been reminded of the safety guidelines, here’s the low-down on a few of the playgrounds in the city. (There about 20 parks in the city and Reed, Rollins, Fletcher-Murphy, West Street, Thompson, White, Kimball, Garrison, Rolfe, Merrill and Keach have playgrounds.)

Keach Park
7 Newton Ave.
Keach Park is conveniently spread out, boasting 10-plus acres for prime recreational leisureliness. The large playground fea-
Keach Park

Features four slides, a climbing wall, and swings for all ages. There is a pavilion with picnic tables underneath to set up lunch or sit and read a book in the shade while children play nearby. There are also large trees and shaded areas with seating throughout the park, providing a place to set up and enjoy a day with family in any season. Keach Park is located in the Heights area of Concord, just off Loudon Road, across from Aroma Joe’s. An often busy area of town, the park provides a tranquil space to burn off some energy or catch up with friends.

Rolfe Park

Located in the northern part of the city in Penacook Village, Rolfe Park is one of Concord’s largest parks at almost 38 acres. It has a baseball field, softball field, little league field and soccer fields for use during the autumn months. Basketball and tennis courts are also available for public use. The full-sized playground is adjacent to a seasonal pool with a wading pool for toddlers and parents. The park offers hiking trails through the shaded woods nearby. Handicap parking is available in the lot by the pool and playground. And if you’re looking to plan a lunch or full day of activities, Rolfe Park is one of the few city public spaces that provides trash cans for parkgoers’ convenience. So make sure to pick up after yourselves! Also unique to Rolfe, a Little Free Library is located on the campus to promote a friendly, community book exchange.

childhood memories of Concord South End kids spanning generations. The park provides a great atmosphere for play or relaxation, with paved walking paths throughout, a picturesque gazebo and stone bridge area, as well as a full-sized playground. There is also a baseball field, a softball field, field hockey field and tennis and basketball courts. A picnic shelter provides shade for guests. During the winter months, an ice rink is constructed in the northern part of Rollins. If driving to this South End spot, parking can be found on Bow Street.

Garrison Park
31 Hutchins St.
Garrison Park is a great place to gather some friends for a pick-up basketball game or shoot hoops solo on the court. Garrison Park is comprised of a playground, basketball courts and a seasonal pool. The park is located just off North State Street, in the western part of the city and is 11.5 acres in size.

Fletcher-Murphy Play Lot
28 Fayette St.
Fletcher-Murphy Play Lot offers a playground and a basketball court that is known for its pick-up basketball games, according to concordnh.gov. The park sits in the south end of Concord.

White Park
1 White St.
A popular recreational space for family entertainment is the Monkey Around Playground. Plans are in the works to upgrade the park, so now is your chance to visit the wooden play structure.

While gyms are beginning to open at lower occupancy numbers and at least some social distancing precautions expected to continue through the summer, it might be hard to keep up the routines you are used to doing. However, it is still important to stay active for a healthy body and mind.

Instructors from 43 Degrees North will be sharing quick exercises with the Insider that you can do at home.

Lunge

A lunge is a great exercise because it mimics real life; it mimics walking only more exaggerated and it works your body unilaterally. Single leg movements activate your stabilizing muscles to develop better balance, coordination and stability.

To perform take a big step forward, landing heel down first, bend your front knee to approximately 90 degrees making sure you bent knee is not forward of your toes, you’ll put most of your weight in your front leg with your rear leg to balance stabilize and support your entire body. Push off on the forefoot of your front foot to get back to starting position.

You are working your gluteal, hamstrings, quadriceps muscles as well as your core.

Treasure Island
By Robert Louis Stevenson
Illustrated by N.C. Wyeth
(fiction, 273 pages, 1911)

Young Jim Hawkins is helping his parents run the Admiral Benbow Inn in a coastal town in England in the mid 1700s. An “old sea dog” comes in to stay at the inn. He is a tall, strong man, tanned, with a sabre scar on his cheek. He is Captain Billy Bones. He sings an old sea song, “Fifteen men on the dead man’s chest - Yo-ho-ho and a bottle of rum!” He tells Jim to be on the lookout for “a seafaring man with one leg.” Dangerous men are after Captain Billy Bones. And just like that, Jim is swept into an adventure!

When Captain Billy Bones dies soon after, he leaves behind a treasure map! So Jim, Dr. Livesey and Squire Trelawney find a ship, the Hispaniola, and sail off to find the island where the treasure lies buried. But the sea-cook on the vessel is none other than Long John Silver and he means to get the treasure for himself!

There are many sides to Long John Silver, he is cunning, crafty and knows how to talk men around to his side. And he has a parrot named Captain Flint. Jim, young as he is, is able to save his friends at times, but also makes drastic mistakes. This tale of high adventure has treachery, mutiny, shipwrecks, castaways, fantastic rescues, pistol and cutlass battles, and all manner of daring do!

This wonderful story tells us the meaning of “the black spot,” and brings us the phrases “shiver my timbers” and “pieces of eight.” If you haven’t read it, or it has been a while since you’ve read it, this tale doesn’t disappoint! And there are beautiful illustrations by N.C. Wyeth in the book and eBook. It is a tale to be savored again and again!

Artemis Fowl
By Eoin Colfer
(Young adult fantasy, 280 pages, 2001)

Artemis Fowl is a delight of a read. Pragmatic, cut-throat boy wonder Artemis posits himself against the entirety of The People, the collective species of fae and fairy folk world over. From dwarves to gnomes, these beings have hidden themselves underground to hide from the threats and encroachments of humans. Artemis discovers their existence and plots to steal some of their gold by abducting a fairy. As the various species interact, however, empathy begins to grow and they work with one another toward mutually-beneficial goals.

Fast-paced and humorous, this book is hard to put down. Luckily, there are a number of fun sequels, and the film adaptation directed by Kenneth Branagh is set to release this May. A great opportunity to re-read this first book or to motivate a new reader prior to seeing the film!

Lindsey Hunterwolf
June 18, 2003: House and Senate leaders strike a deal on a compromise state budget that restores most of the cuts to Health and Human Services that Gov. Craig Benson and the House proposed earlier this year. “We have presented a people’s budget,” Senate President Tom Eaton says. “And we did it without raising taxes.”

June 18, 2000: Organizers say the 77th edition of Bike Week brought some 340,000 people to the Laconia area. The police say they recorded about 170 arrests, significantly fewer than in either of the previous two years.

June 18, 1812: Congress declares war on Great Britain. Siding with the Federalist opposition, New Hampshireman Daniel Webster calls the declaration of war “premature and inexpedient” and accuses the Republicans of having entered an alliance against England with the “papists, the infidels (and the) atheists of France.”

June 18, 1853: A group of Concord citizens meets and raises money for a street sprinkler to keep the dust down on Main Street.

June 18, 1861: Thaddeus S.C. Lowe, a 29-year-old native of Randolph, N.H., sends a telegram to earth from his balloon 1,000 feet up. Watching this experiment in Washington, D.C., is President Abraham Lincoln. Lowe will become an aeronaut, performing reconnaissance duties for the Union army.

June 18, 1865: Lawmakers consider legislation to allow grocery and drug stores to sell light wines. They estimate an extra $700,000 in state revenue. (The legislation will eventually pass.)

June 19, 2002: After 66 years, Washington Street School in Penacook closes. In the fall, students will attend Penacook Elementary School, a brand-new facility one mile away.

June 19, 2001: The best place in the state to hunt for a moose is in the Pittsburg area, the Monitor reports. According to Fish and Game officials, moose hunters in that area enjoy a success rate of better than 90 percent. The statewide average is 71 percent.

June 19, 2000: Residents of Hull, Quebeq, pedal through downtown Concord on a 33-passenger bicycle, part of a trek the Canadian town has organized to celebrate its bicentennial.

June 19, 1807: Parliamentary maneuvering in the Legislature results in Concord being named the capital, ending several years of roving state government.

June 19, 1856: One hundred booms of the cannon in Concord celebrate the nomination of John Charles Fremont, the first Republican candidate for president. The cheer goes up: “Free Soil, Free Men and Fremont.”

June 19, 1973: Gov. Mel Thomson vetoes legislation that would prevent a governor from delving into confidential tax records.

June 19, 1843: In his journal, Benjamin Brown French, a New Hampshireman who has gone to Washington as a political appointee, marvels over “the astonishing rapidity with which information is now spread over this land.” At noon two days before, Sen. Daniel Webster spoke at the dedication of the Bunker Hill Memorial. After reading the text of Webster’s speech in the Capitol less than 40 hours later, Brown writes: “What’s the use of speculating about balloons, when information can pass from one end of the Union to the other at the rate of 20 miles an hour!”

June 19, 1864: In the waters off Cherbourg, France, the Portsmouth-built USS Kearsarge sinks the notorious marauder CSS Alabama in one of the Civil War’s most celebrated naval duels. The Alabama’s captain, the pirate Raphael Semmes, escapes to England, but his days of terrorizing federal ships are done.

June 20, 2003: In Laconia, jurors convict Daniel Littlefield of Meredith of the lesser of two negligent homicide charges, finding that he failed to keep a proper lookout when he killed John Hartman with his powerboat last August. But they clear him of the more serious charge of driving while impaired by alcohol.

June 20, 1997: A man is killed and several injured in a baseball-bat brawl at a Canterbury sand pit.

June 20, 1841: More than 1,000 people gather at the Old North Church to hear a lecture by John. H.W. Hawkins, a self-proclaimed “reformed inebriate” who is now a silver-tongued missionary for temperance.

June 20, 1806: Two and a half years after the state ordered the towns to survey their land and borders, the Legislature assigns Philip Carrigain and Phinehas Merrill to double-check the surveying work. Carrigain will eventually be hired to combine the town surveys into a map of New Hampshire.

June 21, 2001: One of two men accused of fatally beating a 91-year-old Penacook woman confesses in court as part of a deal for a reduced prison sentence. In nine months, prosecutors will ask the court to dissolve the plea deal, saying they now want to try the man who confessed and accept a lesser plea from the second man, who had been headed for trial.

June 21, 1861: In New Jersey, Lt. Charles W. Walker of the Goodwin Rifles, a revered company of the Second New Hampshire Volunteer Infantry Regiment, falls from a lurching platform car of the train carrying the regiment to Washington. His injuries prove fatal. His body will be brought back to Concord for burial.

June 21, 1788: At a meeting house near the present-day Walker School, delegates from around the state vote 57-47 in favor of the new U.S. Constitution. This makes New Hampshire the ninth and deciding state to ratify. Hopkinton’s delegate votes in favor; Concord’s delegate, the burly Capt. Ben Emery, votes no, as do representatives of Warner, Salisbury and Loudon.

June 22, 1843: Col. Franklin Pierce, the future president, delivers a temperance lecture at Concord’s old North Church. Pierce is part of a committee whose aim is to “most certainly and speedily cause the use and traffic in intoxicating drinks to cease in town, except for mechanical and medical purposes.”

June 23, 1785: A committee is appointed to lay out Main Street in Concord. A final report won’t be drafted until 1798.

June 23, 1815: A freight boat journeys from Boston to Concord for the first time.

LAW FIRM BILLING MANAGER

An opportunity exists at Sulloway & Hollis, PLLC, one of New Hampshire’s largest and most prominent law firms, for a Billing Manager in its Accounting Department.

The applicant must be well-organized, with strong attention to detail, have the ability to both work independently and as a team player. The applicant should have a minimum of five to seven years of hands on experience in the processing of legal or professional services bills, both paper and electronic. May also perform a variety of other accounting duties according to established policies and procedures to include maintaining contact with attorneys, staff, vendors and clients and observe confidentiality of clients and firm matters. The position oversees one billing coordinator and works closely with the partners and COO to evaluate billing processes, troubleshoot billing and collection challenges and ensures the accurate and timely processing of all client billing.

To qualify, applicant must possess a working knowledge of Microsoft Office especially Excel. Experience with a variety of e-billing companies a plus. Strong math skills and a working knowledge of basic accounting preferable.

We offer competitive salaries, commensurate with experience, an excellent benefits package and a cohesive team atmosphere.

Qualified applicants should submit resume and cover letter to Jennifer L. Iacopino, Human Resources Administrator at hr@sulloway.com.
