Sledding til spring
Snow may be here, but plans for warmer weather in the works
March 9, 1973: Gov. Mel Thomson says the state’s boundary squabble with Maine isn’t just about water - it also concerns land. Thomson contends all of the Isles of Shoals belong to New Hampshire, including Duck Appledore Malaga, Smuttynose and Cedar, considered part of Maine since 1635.

March 9, 1964: Dr. Robert O. Blood, former New Hampshire governor and chairman of an uncommitted slate of GOP delegates on the next day’s presidential primary ballot, says he has contacted Richard Nixon to “ascertain the position” of the former vice president. Nixon tells him: “Although I have taken no part in the New Hampshire primary, I believe that all Americans will be watching the results there.” Nixon will receive 15,500 write-in votes.

March 10, 2000: A 7-year-old boy crossing Loudon Road on his way to Concord’s Dame School is struck by a pickup truck and seriously injured. The accident inspires residents of the Heights to press city officials for better traffic signals and more clearly marked crosswalks.

March 10, 1777: The Legislature orders the state’s first constitutional Fast Day, to be celebrated April 16. The holiday will not die out until the 1990s.

March 10, 1863: Ship owner Daniel Marcy, a Copperhead from Portsmouth, is elected to the U.S. Congress from the First District.

March 10, 1852: An amendment on the ballot would overturn the constitutional provision that only Protestants may run for political office in New Hampshire. Voters reject the amendment by a 5-4 majority.

March 10, 1978: The Executive Council approves 32-year-old Tom Rath of Concord to succeed David Souter as attorney general. Souter, 38, who held the job for seven years, is approved as a superior court judge. Gov. Meldrim Thomson Jr. made the nominations. Rath’s salary will be $33,500 a year.

March 10, 1853: The town of Concord holds its last town meeting - and then votes to become a city by a vote of 828-559.

March 11, 1874: It’s right to self-government recognized seven years after the first white settlers arrive, Rumford in Essex County, Mass., convenes its first town meeting at 2 p.m. In time the town will be known as Concord, N.H.

March 11, 1989: Amid a recession, Barnstead school district voters kill plans to start music, art and kindergarten at the elementary school. Also killed is a gifted/talented program.

March 12, 1986: Gov. John Sununu signs into law a measure providing money to pay for placing children in group and foster homes. The measure provides money to cover court-ordered placements. It is a result of the state’s failure to pay for a law it approved the year before.

March 13, 1993: People hunker down for what television has hyped as the “storm of the century.” Concord gets 17 inches of snow. Most roads will be clear by morning.

March 13, 1782: The Legislature meets in Concord for the first time at the First Congregational Church. The building will burn in 1870.

March 14, 1968: Thomas J. Saltmarsh, a 19-year-old paratrooper from Concord, is killed in action near Saigon. He is the 16th local man to die in combat during the Vietnam War.

Economic impact of climate change

A panel discussion at the UNH Franklin Pierce School of Law hosted by the Warren B. Rudman Center for Justice, Leadership & Public Service, co-sponsored by The League of Conservation Voters and The Concord Coalition will focus on the economic and budgetary cost of climate inaction, economic opportunity of climate action and the current and future environmental regulatory landscape.

Moderated by Laura Knoy, award-winning journalist and Director of Community Engagement at the Rudman Center, featured panelists include Anne Kelly, Vice President of Government Relations for Ceres, leads the Ceres Policy Network, Brad Campbell, President of the Conservation Law Foundation and Pat Parenteau, Emeritus Professor of Law and Senior Fellow for Climate Policy at the Vermont Law and Graduate School.

Join the Poetry Society of New Hampshire for an afternoon of verse on March 15 at 4:30 p.m. Their headlining poets this month are Julia Lisella and Kathleen Aguero. An open mic follows their readings.

Julia Lisella’s most recent collection, Our Lively Kingdom (Bordighera Press, 2022), was named a finalist in the Lauria/Frasca poetry prize. Her poems have appeared in many journals and anthologies, including Ploughshares, Nimrod, Patterson Literary Review, VIA, and Alaska Quarterly Review.

In addition to After That (Tiger Bark Press), Kathleen Aguero’s poetry collections include Investigations: The Mystery of the Girl Sleuth (Cervena Barva Press), Daughter Of (Cedar Hill Books), The Real Weather (Hanging Loose), and Thirsty Day (Alice James Books). She has also co-edited three volumes of multi-cultural literature for the University of Georgia Press (A Gift of Tongues, An Ear to the Ground, and Daily Fare) and is consulting poetry editor of Solstice Literary Magazine.

Virtual event with Bernie Sanders

Join Random House Group and Gibson’s Bookstore as Sen. Bernie Sanders discusses his new book, It’s OK to Be Angry About Capitalism, on March 13 at 8 p.m. on Zoom. Senator Sanders will discuss the destructive nature of a system fueled by greed, and how we can work to create a society that provides a decent standard of living for all. Submit your question for the senator when registering, and yours may be answered during the event.

Each ticket includes admission to the event and a hardcover copy of It’s Okay to Be Angry About Capitalism.
Fix leaks, lifeguard training

Here’s a look at some of the highlight’s from last week’s city newsletter.

Meetings
City meetings are held in person in Council Chambers at 37 Green St. (unless otherwise specified on the City’s calendar). Upcoming meetings include:
- City Council: March 13, 7 p.m.
- Planning Board: March 15, 7 p.m.

Visit concordnh.legistar.com/Calendar.aspx for City Council and Planning Board agendas, which are posted prior to the meetings. View the City calendar for more meetings and events.

Fix a leak
March 20 to 26, 2023, is National Fix a Leak Week. More than 10,000 gallons of water are wasted in the average household each year from leaks. Sometimes leaks can be silent and go undetected until you notice an increase in your water bill. Find and fix household leaks to save water, energy, and possibly even money on utility bills.

#FixaLeak Twitter Party: Kick-off Fix a Leak Week on March 20, by joining EPA WaterSense, Concord General Services, and others across the nation for a Twitter Party from 2 to 3 p.m. Join the conversation about how to find and fix water leaks with the hashtag #FixaLeak.

Royal Leak Detection Contest: Water leaks can be a royal pain. Perform a “royal” leak detection to find and fix household leaks. Enter the Royal Leak Detection contest by sharing how you have found and fixed water leaks for a chance to win a new royal “throne” (WaterSense-labeled toilet). Must be a Con-

Who says kids should have all the fun? At The Baldwin — an all-new Life Plan Community (CCRC) — we say this is your time. Make a splash in the pool. Dance, stretch, lift, and box in the fitness center. Learn for the love of it. Take to the nearby trails, then top off your day at the local brewery. Define life on your terms and do whatever you choose — whether that’s everything or nothing at all.

The Baldwin is approaching sold-out status with opening planned for fall 2023. Call 603.404.6080 or visit TheBaldwinNH.org today!

The Glacier Bay Power Flush White Elongated Toilet uses 1.28 GPF (gallons per flush) and is certified by EPA WaterSense to use at least 20% less water without sacrificing performance. This toilet features an extra-large trapway to prevent clogs and Niagara Stealth Technology for a quiet, powerful flush with vacuum-assist to fully empty the bowl and eliminate double flushing. It has a flapper-less design, which means no flapper, chains, or levers to replace or leaks to fix. There is no refill noise with an unexposed fill valve, the bowl seat is higher for added comfort, and the seat is soft closing to prevent slamming. To enter, submit a contest entry form online, by mail, or in person at the Utility Billing Office at 311 N. State St. Another entry option is to share in a public social media post how you have found and fixed water leaks. Tag Concord General Services @ConcordNHGS on Facebook, Instagram, or Twitter. Double your chance to win by entering the contest both ways (social media and contest entry form)! All entries must be received by 5 p.m. on March 26. By entering the contest, you agree to the terms and conditions of the official contest rules.

Be a leak detective for Fix A Leak Week! Common leaks around the home include worn toilet flappers, dripping faucets, and other leaking valves. Most leaks are easy to fix. Sometimes a valve or fixture tightening is all that is needed. Learn more about Fix A Leak Week, how to find leaks, the EPA WaterSense Program, and the Royal Leak Detection contest at concordnh.gov/leaks.

Lifeguard training
Want to be a lifeguard? Concord Parks & Recreation will reimburse any lifeguard hired for summer 2023 with a valid certification. Swim NH has a variety of certification classes available. Please visit swimnh.com for more information.

One Hundred Saturdays: Stella Levi and the Search for a Lost World

By Michael Frank
(227 pages, memoir/history, 2022)

In Feb. 2015, Michael Frank met nonagenarian Stella Levi at a talk in New York City. Stella was born on the island of Rhodes into a Judeo-Spanish community that had existed since the Jews were expelled from Spain and Portugal in the 15th century. That community was erased in 1944 when the Nazis marched the entire population down to the port, onto a boat and eventually to the concentration camps.

There are really three stories entwined here. First, the story of the friendship between Michael Frank and Stella Levi, as they build the trust that enables Stella to share her story. Second, the story of World War II from a very different vantage: an island in the Aegean, successively claimed by the Ottoman Empire, Italy, Germany and now a part of Greece. Third, of course, is Stella’s own life, spanning the pre-war world to the present day.

Unwilling to be defined by the worst parts of her life, Stella Levy had only rarely spoken of her time in the camps. Her deepest wish was to share the life of the Jewish quarter on Rhode, its unique language and customs that endured for centuries, but no more. Having come to trust Michael Frank, however, she shared all of her story. It’s worth reading and was different from the many other World War II memoirs and novels I’ve read.

Brittany Johnson loves the NH outdoors

Concord Young Professionals Network (CYPN) introduces you to the “Young Professional of the Month,” Brittany Johnson. Each month, the CYPN Steering Committee recommends a young professional in the community it thinks readers would enjoy getting to know better.

Brittany Johnson

Where do you live? Concord

Where do you currently work? I’m the Regional Marketing Manager of NH at Breezeline. Breezeline’s entry into the city of Concord last year has offered a new choice in providers with powerful, superfast fiber internet for homes and businesses. Breezeline also offers a new cloud-based StreamTV service. You can learn more at breezeline.com.

What’s your favorite part of your work day? Getting to connect with the community through events. Concord has some pretty great ones! Breezeline is hosting a CYPN event on March 15; we’re excited to show the community our new customer service office and are looking forward to connecting with everyone! If you can’t attend the event, our new customer service center is located at 41 N. Main St., and is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

How did you find out about CYPN and how has it benefited your business or you personally? I found CYPN through the Greater Concord Chamber of Commerce. I have met so many great people through their events that have developed into great partners. CYPN has been a great resource for myself and our company.

Why do you choose to live in the Greater Concord area? It’s a city that feels like a small town. I moved here about five years ago and have loved it ever since.

What do you like to do for fun? Hiking, biking, frisbee golf, snowboarding and canoeing. Anything outdoors!

Favorite place to be? Exploring in the White Mountains.

If you could visit any country, where would you go? I have always wanted to hike in the Patagonia in Chile. It’s on my list for 2024.

Last book you’ve read? The Four Winds by Kristin Hannah. All of her books are great reads!

What’s your favorite restaurant in Concord? Moritomo has amazing sushi. I highly recommend it!

What’s your favorite place to go in Concord? Gibson’s Bookstore & Cafe. I love supporting my local bookstore and they have great coffee. Two of my favorite things.

What’s your favorite memory in Concord? Some of my favorite memories include exploring the small shops downtown, and making a day out of it. Concord has some great local shops.

Visit Breezeline’s new location on Main Street while networking with other young professionals on Wednesday, March 15 from 5:30 to 7 p.m. Breezeline is one of the nation’s largest cable and internet operators. Enjoy delicious food, drinks, and meet new friends from your CYPN community at this fun event. Sign up at concordnhchamber.com.

Some of my favorite memories include exploring the small shops downtown and making a day out of it. Concord has some great local shops.

Another Crossroads Success Story

I’m on my third year at Crossroads Chiropractic. I live 30 minutes away…making the trip is worth every minute. Wish I had started when I was younger.

– Sue S. age 58

I have had back trouble since high school…and was just living with it. After my first adjustment I felt like a totally different person. I hopped right off the table and immediately noticed a difference in my back as well as my breathing.

– Laurie S. age 53

I had a lot of neck and back pain from a bad fall that I took 10 years ago. I decided to try chiropractic for my pain since physical therapy had not helped. After getting adjusted for a couple months my pain was much less – the longer I came to be adjusted the better I felt.

– Elizabeth W. age 51

Congratulations Denise C. March Practice Member of the Month!

People come to Crossroads Chiropractic for help with:

- Chronic Ear Infections
- Acid Reflux
- Sciatica
- Scoliosis
- Numbness in Arms/ Hands
- Colic
- ADD/ADHD
